We understand that some parents prefer to take responsibility for some of these elements of their child's education and they have the right to withdraw their child from these lessons up until age 15. Parents who choose to do this should contact me in writing, stating their reasons for the request.

Our school policy for Relationship and Sex education is also available on our website.

At Olive AP Academy Thurrock, we welcome working collaboratively with parents in order to develop our programmes of study in this area. If any parent would like to know more, I would invite them to contact me directly either by telephone or email so that I can arrange this.

Yours sincerely

Chris Reilly
Assistant Headteacher and Head of PSHE + RSE
